Company Objective

With over thirty years of experience in manufacturing top quality aluminum alloy wheels, Direct Wheel Source is the leader and pioneer in the wheel industry today. Here at Direct Wheel Source we thrive on three main objectives: quality, design, and service. Aside from our knowledge and experience we have a strong passion for what we do here at DWS; our design and engineer teams work together to create the most innovative designs that ultimately set the trend for the market today.

We specialize in manufacturing wheels of all sizes and applications, and we can help raise your brand to a whole new level. Our very own factory is equipped with the most advanced machineries on the market today; this ensures the quality of all our wheels. Whether it's cast or forged our factory is fully prepared to bring you the best quality products and services. We are TUV, VIA, and JWL certified and we manufacture for many leading brands around the globe. All our wheels go through a series of tests before we release them to our customers; therefore, it is safe to say that here at Direct Wheel Source we firmly stand behind the quality of all our products.

Furthermore, our team of designers and engineers will work together along your side to create the best products that fit you specific needs. We have offices in both U.S. and China to ensure that our customers get the best service at any time. What makes us stand out from the other manufacturers is the simple fact that we provide top quality products and services; together we can bring your business to a better tomorrow.
